Pushing Steel Strike Problem Up To President

Secretary Of Labor To Present Workers' Grievances To Chief Executive

JOHNSON RETURNS TO WASHINGTON

Little Development Seen In Effort To Halt Strike
During Day

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, June 7.—President Roosevelt was drawn more closely into the threatened steel strike today when Secretary of Labor Perkins agreed to present the workers' grievances to the executive.

This agreement followed a meeting of steel union leaders with Miss Perkins and Edward F. McGrady, assistant labor secretary and labor advisor to the NRA. It was learned that Secretary Perkins also asked the department of justice for a comprehensive report on the Pittsburgh steel district.

Immediately following the return of Recovery Administrator Hugh S. Johnson from his apparently fruitless meeting with the nation's steelmasters in New York, the NRA chief was closeted with McGrady and Donald Richberg, chief counsel of the NRA.

Johnson confirmed reports that the steel masters had not rejected his plan of setting up a steel industry national labor board but had asked for more time to consider the proposal. It was further pointed out by NRA officials and labor union leaders that neither side had brought the "closed shop" proposition into the situation. The labor leaders explained their demands, unchanged, were for a guaranty regarding the right to hold elections for the purpose of collective bargaining. The colored shop argument, the union leaders claimed, was only a "red herring" dragged across the trail by the employers.

Deny Proposal Rejected.
NEW YORK, June 7.—Flatly denying leaders of the steel industry have rejected his compromise proposal for settlement of the strike called for June 16, General Hugh S. Johnson, NRA administrator, departed for Washington by air today.

"They told me they were going to consider it," General Johnson said. (Continued On Page Two)

PA NEW OBSERVES
The area just north of New Castle got a heavy rainfall during the storm of Wednesday afternoon.

City dog catcher Jack Young was noted doing the rounds with his dog catching net, last night, about 10 o'clock. Better keep your dog at home nights.

Although the drought was broken by a heavy shower here Wednesday afternoon, only temporary relief was afforded from the dry spell.

A good soaking rain is needed to bring visible results. This was the first rain that has fallen in the city since May 25 when only a sprinkle was noted.

PA News observes that the parking grounds in the vicinity of the Central Fire Station have been given a treatment of calcium chloride to lay the dust.

John McClurg, of 826 Morton street, brought a beautiful specimen of the luna moth to The News office today. It was a pale green color, with a strip of purple along the front edge of the wings. This moth is one of the largest of the American moths, and has a swallow tail. It was captured along the Harlansburg road.

Coyne Case Jury Still Deadlocked

Deliberations Of Jury Enter
Second Day; Wide Diversity Reported

PITTSBURGH, June 7.—Unable to agree on the guilt or innocence of State Senator James J. Coyne and his six co-defendants a federal court jury went into their second day of deliberations here this afternoon as they kept at their weary task of seeking a verdict.

Twenty-four hours after they had retired to their chambers to deliberate they had not reported to the court their inability to agree but as the hours dragged along it seemed evident that they were widely divided in their opinions.

As court reconvened this morning, the jurors were convened this morning. They returned an hour later.

Back in the jury room, they again took up the questions before them. They were:

Are they all guilty? Are they all innocent? Are any of them guilty? Are any of them innocent? Who is and who isn't guilty?

As the hours rolled by, the feeling grew that the jurors will soon report to Judge F. P. Schoonmaker that they have been unable to agree on these questions. The court will then probably order them to return to their deliberations until he is convinced that all hope for an agreement is gone.

Quintuplets 10 Days Old

Little Daughters Of Canadian Parents Are Doing
"Quite Well" Says
Doctor

(International News Service)
CALLANDER, Ontario, June 7.—The quintuplet daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Oliva Dionne were ten days old this morning at 4 o'clock.

The little infants whose lives have been spared of day after day during their 240 hours of struggle were reported to be showing visible improvement by Dr. A. R. D'Arce, who has attended the children since birth.

At midnight, Dr. D'Arce after visiting the children in their humble quarters two and one-half miles east of here declared:

"The kids are doing 'danged' well. They shouldn't be living at all but they are living and are improving."

The doctor's statement was the most optimistic one he has made since their birth ten days ago.

Every precaution is being taken to give the five young ladies every possible "break."

EMPLOYEES REPRESENTATION PLAN GETS HUGE VOTE AT BOTH TIN PLANTS HERE

With an amazingly high percentage of the employees voting, the nominations for representatives under the Employees Representation plan in operation in the Shenango and New Castle Works have been made and plans completed for the general election on June 12.

Of the 2837 employees in the Shenango plant eligible to vote in the primary election, 2518 voted, a shade under 89 per cent. Of the 1326 employees in the New Castle plant eligible to vote, 1189 voted, a shade under 90 per cent. The unusually high per centage voting indicates a keen interest in the plan upon the part of the tin plate employees.

From the list of nominees named in the representation will be chosen the representatives who will serve for the coming year. Every nominee on the list is an employee in either of the two plants so that representation will be genuinely that of the employees by and for themselves. The work of counting the ballots was a task but was completed today. The nominations were held on Tuesday, June 5.

DEMOCRATS MOVE TO HEED ORDERS

By EUGENE J. CADOU
International News Service Staff

WASHINGTON, June 7.—President Roosevelt today directly ordered his congressional leaders to obtain enactment of the much-contested Wagner labor disputes bill before congress adjourns.

Upon receipt of the word from the White House, the senate leaders scheduled the Wagner bill as the "unfinished business" after the silver measure is enacted.

Republican senate chieftains, simultaneously demanded similar expedition for the Hatfield-Wagner Railroad Labor Retirement Act.

There was no material opposition from the Democrats, but there was some question as to the bill's order on the senate's program.

Some senators believed both bills will pass because of Mr. Roosevelt's desire to obtain as much labor legislation as possible in view of the threatened strike of the steel workers. Both measures have been reported favorably by committee that considered them.

No Repudiation Of War Debts To U. S., Is Asserted

(International News Service)
LONDON, June 7.—No European power, so far as the British government has been informed, has decided to entirely repudiate its foreign debt to the United States despite the fact that most of America's debtors, including Great Britain, are now in default.

This statement was made to the House of Commons this afternoon by Leslie Hore-Belisha financial secretary to the treasury, in answer to a question put by Capt. William Thomas Shaw, conservative member.

Capt. Shaw asked the treasury to publish a white paper showing the original foreign debt claims of the United States, the amounts thus far paid, the amounts outstanding and the names of those countries which have declared their intention of not paying any more of those claims.

Agreeing that the treasury would make such a report Hore-Belisha replied:

"I am not aware that any country has made a declaration of the kind referred to in the last part of the question."

Course you got to use a little humor when you say it's an honor to hand a man the Republican party to run at this time. It's sort of giving you an empty gun to protect yourself. Henry will do 'em as good a job as anybody could, if he confines 'em to constructive criticism.

The heat may be too much to dig or paint a chicken coop, for one must watch his temperature when Sol goes doop-a-doop. It may be much too hot to hike or wash the family car, build a fence or can some beets and put them in a jar. But it is never hot enough to face the tennis fan, he is a heat resisting lad, an iron plated man. And though he looks for cooling shade when there is work to do, when tennis calls he grabs his hat and laces up his shoes, for there was never any time too hot for tennis play, which proves something I don't know what, it's seventy-two today.

REPUBLICANS PREPARE FOR FALL ELECTIONS

Fletcher Will Lead Campaign

Keynote Of G. O. P. Is Sounded At Committee Meeting In Chicago

OPPOSE DICTATOR POWERS MOVEMENT

(International News Service) CHICAGO, June 7.—The Republican national committee, embarked on a policy of constitutional liberalism shaped for the coming congressional and national elections, today awaited a message from its new chairman, Henry P. Fletcher, distinguished diplomat and a conservative.

Chairman Fletcher journeyed here from his home at Greencastle, Pa., to address the committee at an open session which was expected to bring forth an amplification of criticism against the Roosevelt New Deal contained in the statement of principles adopted at yesterday's session.

Three keynote which the Republicans sounded in launching their drive for revival embodied principles of the Pennsylvania platform on which U. S. Senator David A. Reed recently defeated Governor Gifford Pinchot, friend of President Roosevelt and advocate of Roosevelt policies, in the Pennsylvania senatorial primary.

In Greater Danger

Its opening charge warned: "American institutions and American civilization are in greater danger today than at any time since the foundation of the Republic. We believe that the present emergency laws vesting dictatorial powers in the President must never be permitted to become a permanent part of our governmental system."

The G. O. P. keynote stands for "individual initiative and the maintenance of competition, checked by government regulation", as opposed to "an economic system based upon bureaucratic control."

Fletcher, nominated by Mrs. Worthington Scranton of Pennsylvania, received 67 votes of the 92 cast. John D. M. Hamilton, committeeman from Kansas, received 25 votes. Hamilton, the only other nominee, immediately moved to make Fletcher's election unanimous.

Reed worked with the Charles D. Hiles sub-committee in drafting the declaration of principles, and the Pennsylvania platform and later the Pennsylvania candidate for chairman was ratified by the committee.

Some solace was accorded the West by the naming of Phil W. Collins, Legionnaire, of Illinois, and Hamilton to important posts in the national committee. Hamilton was given the post of party counsel left vacant by the death of James F. Burke of Pennsylvania. Collins is likely to be named to a new position, "director of organization."

"There was practically no opposition to the appointment of Chairman Fletcher, who served under Theodore Roosevelt in the Rough Riders and who served on foreign missions under Presidents Harding, Coolidge and Hoover. Fletcher was considered satisfactory to the so-called Hoover bloc and the committee wired its greetings to the former President."

REPORT HOLIDAY SERVICE

Boy Scouts of Lawrence county again did good work during the annual Memorial Day exercises throughout the county, reports from a number of communities showing that many kinds of service were rendered. In New Castle the scouts performed an additional duty in assisting traffic control, and this may become a regular part of the annual service. Police Chief John E. Haven was warm in his praise of the way the scouts handled their assignments.

Various troops assigned to work in the cemeteries all did good work. As is the case with any organization, the local county scouts already have started a memorial division of their own; three actively registered scouts and scouts having passed away in the past few years—Eagle Scout Charles McConnell, Scoutmaster Charles W. Hicks and Star Scout Lattiano of Ellwood City. Memorial services were held for all these at the cemeteries where they sleep, and the new Boy Scout blue memorial flags fluttered over the green mounds. The holding of such memorial services will be a regular feature of local scout programs hereafter. The "Brady Paul patrol" of V-10 did not forget its duty in flying the flag at the marker on the Butler highway which marks the spot where Paul was mortally wounded in the discharge of his duty.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks pink, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul. You often break out in hives. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes a good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't take for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resist a substitute. 25c at drug stores. ©1931 C. M. Co.

Near Dead Line For Registration Of Truckers Here

Harry L. Gormley of New Castle, one of the code authorities for Pennsylvania in the trucking industry, issued a warning today that the time to register "for hire" trucks was rapidly drawing to a close, and stated that June 13 was the deadline for such registrations.

After June 13 any truck used for hire, not showing a registration emblem, is subject to action by the authorities. A trucker failing to register his truck can be arrested and fined, with a prison sentence possible.

The registration office for New Castle is on South Mercer street, across from the Bell Telephone office, and all truckers are urged to get their trucks registered before it is too late.

Pushing Steel Strike Problem Up to President

"I did not come here to plead with them but merely to explain the details of the code."

General Johnson's assertion was at variance with the statement of the American Iron & Steel Institute declaring that steel leaders had rejected the proposal.

He predicted, however, there would be no compromise on the closed shops issue over which the strike—which threatens the gravest industrial paralysis in years—was called.

"When men start walking out," he said, "you never can tell how far the thing is going."

As General Johnson left for the capitol, the steel men gathered again at their headquarters in the Empire State building for another conference, still grimly determined to preserve the open shop in the steel industry.

To Get Consideration

Pittsburgh, June 7.—Government proposals for a special labor relations board for the steel industry will be given "most careful consideration," officials of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel & Tin Workers said today.

E. W. Miller, vice-president of the union, however, said he was uncertain whether creation of such a board would avert a strike. Asked about this, he replied:

"We don't know."

No official word has been received concerning the proposed board. Miller said. He added that since the union heads were in Washington last week they have received no word directly from the capitol. He said they were told they would be recalled when the government had arranged a conference with employers.

Don't Want To Strike.

Miller asserted none of the steel workers really want to strike. Explaining, he said:

"They feel they are entitled to collective bargaining and fair wages without striking. It's just like war; no one wants to see it, except the munitions makers."

Steel officials and the American Iron & Steel Institute are endeavoring to "mislead the public by saying the issue is concerning a closed shop," Miller charged.

"We're only asking them to carry out section 7-A of the national recovery act permitting them to join an organization of their own choosing without interference and to bargain collectively."

M. F. Tighe, Amalgamated president, was in Cleveland, Miller said, attending the annual conference of the Western Bar Iron association with which the union has a contract.

The contract expires shortly.

(International News Service) ELKINS, W. Va., June 7.—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt was given a series of warm ovations as she travelled through West Virginia today, en route to Reedsville to inspect the subsistence homestead project in which she is so deeply interested.

A thousand people greeted Mrs. Roosevelt at Grafton this morning and along the 46 miles from Grafton to Elkins crowds of several thousand turned out.

Miners with their laps fixed in their caps appeared at several points in trucks which bore placards: "The NRA is our future hope" and "miners welcome you, Mrs. Roosevelt."

At Alderson, where Broadus college is located, the college band was waiting and played the party out of town.

Here at Elkins, Mrs. Roosevelt and Mrs. Harold L. Ickes, wife of the secretary of the interior, were guests of Gov. and Mrs. Kump at breakfast.

Luncheon At Bennett's.

A delicious menu of splendidly prepared viands was served Wednesday at 1 o'clock at a pretty summer table in the home of Mrs. G. S. Bennett, Park avenue, when the members of Section One of the First Christian church assembled for the semi-monthly meeting.

Places were arranged for 24 and the hostess was assisted by Mrs. Percy Walls. Plans were made for a Cascade park breakfast June 20, and reports were given for the year as this meeting closed the business sessions until fall.

At Kay Residence

Nora Kay was a club guest at the meeting of Real Deal associates last evening in Miss Dorothy Kay's home on Hazelcroft avenue.

Miss June Webster and Miss Charlotte Alexander won beautiful prizes at bridge and the guests were served dainty refreshments in pink and white at one long table in the dining room. Nora Kay and Mrs. Frey Kay assisted.

Arrangements were made to have a picnic next Tuesday at Cascade Park.

Breakfast And Swim

At 6 o'clock on the morning of June 10 the Young Menorahs will meet at corner of East Washington street and Croton avenue and from there they will hike to a place on the East Brook road, where they will cook breakfast and then go for a swim.

Mrs. L. S. Moss, advisor will chaperone the youngsters.

Card Party

The usual weekly card party which interests members of the S. J. 500 club was an event of yesterday in St. Joseph's hall with Mrs. E. Kruger hostess. Prize winners were Mrs. M. J. Scanlon and Mrs. Thomas Valley.

Next Wednesday, the women will again play.

CONGRESS SURRENDERS TARIFF POWERS

IN THE passage of the tariff bill the senate—as the house already had done—completely reverses the policies and principles of the Democratic party. Congress has discarded its traditional views. Definitely written in the constitution is its obligation to pass upon all tax measures, and revenue raised by taxes on imported goods is a part of this obligation. Yet here we have congress shifting to the president certain powers that belong exclusively to it. It is one more phase of the New Deal which has been concerning authority in the chief executive.

In the name of "emergency," the president may enter into reciprocal trade treaties with foreign nations. The constitution imposes upon the senate the responsibility of accepting or rejecting all treaties. The senate abandons this responsibility and transfers it to Mr. Roosevelt. Within 50 per cent limitations he may raise or lower tariff rates as he pleases. Utilize it or not, he has the potential power to cripple, ever to destroy an industry.

Congress has surrendered, and now we shall see what the President can accomplish in the way of opening markets for exports. Senator Borah hazards the idea that "if we should approach the British Empire on reciprocal trade agreements, we will find Great Britain ready to talk over war debts." But Section 3 of the bill provides that "nothing in this act shall be construed to give any authority to cancel or reduce in any manner any of the indebtedness of any country to the United States." So Mr. Borah is a bit previous, although he may be right in the thought that Britain will bring the matter up and that in the end negotiations along that line might be entered upon. However, congress is the final resort upon these debts, therefore the president is immediately confined in his agreements to an exchange of goods, a foreign nation pledging itself to make certain purchases of our products while we slash tariff rates upon designated imports.

This is the basis of the proposed reciprocity arrangements, and in this field the president is paramount. He may do just about what he pleases.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

THE SUN STILL RISES

Industrial leaders invited to a dinner by Alfred P. Sloan of General Motors to tell whether they believe the world is going up or down hill, engage in a diversion that has occupied attention in all eras.

What constitutes the high peak depends, of course, on the particular viewpoint. It can be successfully argued that the intelligence of men has not risen above that of the great ancients.

People today have more things to think about, but they think about them in much the same way that men thought tens of centuries ago. They think with more precision along certain lines because they have more information. Yet mathematicians have still to reach that last uncompleted point in Euclid. They have not squared the circle.

In literature the Bible has stood the test of time. The one great contribution since then has been Shakespeare and now, centuries later, writers are trying to find something to write about that Shakespeare did not say.

It is not of such matters, however, that Mr. Sloan's guests talked, but of industrial developments with its social alignments. Here they are upon familiar ground and their analysis and predictions are of interest.

Mr. Sloan himself, however, would hardly be expected to declare that the world's finest automobile has been built and never can be improved upon. And if this be true of one industry, it should apply in all.

The freight canals probably were looked upon by many as the last word in transport. The railroad dissipated that notion. The automobile added another chapter. Today we have the airplane, but are we justified in reaching the conclusion that this is the ultimate in all transportation?

TAXPAYERS INTERESTED

Proposals in Illinois and New Jersey for reducing the cost of government contemplate going much further than any experiments of this kind yet undertaken in any state.

The plan being discussed seriously in Illinois is to cut down by consolidation the 700 counties to only six. In New Jersey it is proposed that municipal government be abolished and that, instead, 21 governmental areas for the entire state be established.

Both plans appear to have strong support as experimental projects. The possibility that they may be tried gives them wide interest. Should they be put through and be made to function successfully, there can be little doubt that they would be adopted, perhaps in varying forms, in many other states were acute need of finding a less expensive form of government exists.

Movements of this kind are finding their chief support in the ranks of the taxpayers, not among politicians. It is the people who bear the burden of financing government that are demanding simplification. Any effective plan would mean fewer office holders and, thereby, less the field for politicians. The latter naturally will be found in opposition to such movements.

The movements in Illinois and New Jersey will be watched with interest throughout the nation. They may hold real promise of solving one of today's most pressing public problems.

NIPPING A NUISANCE

Herbert Hoover's rebuke of the young University of Pennsylvania freshman, who sought to impress the editors of his college paper by getting an interview with President Roosevelt and wound up by writing to Mr. Hoover for help, is a little document that ought to get a wide reading.

Mr. Hoover bluntly informed the young collegian that high government officials are busy men who don't have time for the amateur interviewers, autograph collectors and other varieties of bright young men who buzz about their heads.

Every president has such ambitious but misguided youngsters to contend with. Mr. Hoover himself doubtless suffered from them in his own day. Now he seeks to squelch one who is trying to get at his successor and in seeking to squelch him he has struck a blow in a good cause.

The time of a president is too valuable to be wasted on young collegians who are out to show their cleverness and initiative.

Silver is a politically precious metal.

ADVICE FOR A MAN IN A RAGE

So you've found out that the fellow you thought was your friend isn't really your friend at all?

He said something and that "something" got around, traveled from tongue to ear and tongue to ear and finally came to you. He talked behind your back, criticized you. Of course it was something he said at least a dozen times to you, but he shouldn't have been saying it to other people. . . . Or, perhaps, it was something more serious than that. He broke a confidence and told a secret you'd never told anybody but him. . . . And that's what hurts the most deeply, the most indelibly. You trusted him and he didn't deserve your faith. You leaned upon him, spiritually if in no other way, and he "fell down." . . . And you'll probably never get over it, as long as you live. You've learned a lesson from it. You'll be harder now, you'll be tougher, cynical, and take no more chances with people. . . . You're hurt, you're furious!

Very well, then. Pack your grips and sail for some desert island. Take a hot water bottle and go to the north pole. Take an ice box to the Sahara. Build a stone house on a mountain peak, move in, bar the doors and windows, and never come out again. . . . You might as well. For these are the only ways you will ever be able to escape from human beings.

You can't get away from them any more than you can get away from yourself and it isn't much use trying. . . . Whose life are you trying to live, anyway? Yours, or somebody else's? Human relationships are good, healthy, necessary, satisfying, but it's fatal to let them wreck your life when they go wrong. . . . You must, in the long run, live your own life. Not all of it, to be sure. Other people must be allowed to enter it. You must open your doors and invite them to be a part of your existence. . . . as your guests. But another human being must not be a big fraction of your life. And certainly a friend, however precious, should not be more than a tenth of your existence. A vital, productive tenth, but not enough to wreck your life. . . . You can't measure friendship calculatingly, to a quarter of a teaspoonful, let us say, but your life must be governed by a natural and instinctive wisdom—and if it isn't you'll suffer for it. . . . And deserve what you get.

BRAINS ARE WORTH MORE THAN BRAIN

Experts in any line are looked upon as having a workaday snap.

The way an expert does things looks easy and it is easy because he has perfected a plan by which he can accomplish much with a minimum effort.

He uses his gray matter to save himself physical exertion. He does not reach this stage without thinking and planning and much hard work.

In sports the fellow making the best showing is the one with perfect co-ordination between brain and muscle.

He has proper timing and does not waste effort in inopportune times.

Your plan may be to plunge and lunge at what you have to do.

You will not put practice severe training for smoothness and accuracy.

Your big factor is force at work or at play.

You are not satisfied if physical force is not expended.

You'll never make much progress following that course.

There is only one way to make perfect work and that right way is the easiest way and because it is so easy few find it.

The expert has done his hard work when he finds the easiest way.

A WORD FOR GRANDMA

Mother knows that pie and cake make our little stomachs ache, and we often hear her say:

"That is quite enough today! More will surely make you ill. Run away now and be still."

But at grandma's we can take all we want of chocolate cake.

Mother knows we mustn't eat much of anything too sweet, and she watches us to see

Just how careful we can be. When there's candy, she will say:

"One or two's enough today."

But at grandma's we can eat loads of anything that's sweet.

Mother knows that children must drink their milk and eat their crust

And she tells us right along. We need spinach to be strong.

So she makes us eat a lot of the stuff we'd rather not.

But at Grandma's that's not so. It may be she doesn't know.

KNOW ANY BIGGER?

In case anyone is still in the market for post holes, M. J. Plie of Ft. Wayne, Ind., has some he'd like to dispose of. He says: "My holes don't happen to be second-hand or slightly used ones—they're brand new—and I'll sell them for 13 cents each."

"I had a big dug well on one part of my farm that was no longer in use, and not knowing what else to do with it, I hitched my team to it and pulled the well up. Then I sawed it up into post holes, standard size."

As I have very little room in which to store these holes, I am willing to make a big sacrifice in order to sell them at once.

Should any of them happen not to be the correct size, I will be glad to donate the use of my patent hole shrinker, which can shrink these holes to fit exactly a 2x4 six inches wide. I used to have a stretcher for making the holes larger, but it got broken.

Soon after the war Samuel Gomper, president of the American Federation of Labor at the time, invited the farmers to join organized labor in order to maintain the ground won during the war. ## The World At A Glance

Mixing With The People
Conversation In A Garden
If It Would Only Rain!

By LESLIE EICHEL

Central Press Staff Writer

CLEVELAND, June 7.—It's the custom these days for columnists to go out of New York to mix with the people.

There are scores of people with small houses whom this writer knows—people who make up the backbone of the United States. He hasn't called on them as frequently as he has desired in the last few months. Events have been occurring too rapidly in Washington and in New York.

For the last two days, however, this writer has been domiciled at a small house with a large garden on the far outskirts of Cleveland.

The world seems peaceful there. Yet the man who lives there, and the folk who call and those who live next door work hard for their existence. They are not theorists. Life is practical to them. They have immeasurable common sense. This writer feels a great humility before them.

GARDEN TALK

Following the heat and the toil of the day, we sit in a garden. Or, rather, everybody works in the garden.

The drought has been devastating. "A cold winter, a hot summer," the man of the house says. He looks at the sky. "I wonder what rain looks like."

He and three other men had just finished painting the house, too. But on one side a swarm of insects had descended while the paint still was wet. Nature was perverse this year!

Yet everything looked better—at least, everything in a business way. If "they" didn't stop Roosevelt, the country would be all right.

Local politicians were bad, grabbed everything in sight—maybe Roosevelt could do something with them.

Local politicians and the weather—what could one do about them?

SPEEDIER LIFE

Overhead planes—275-mile-an-hour planes—sped on their New York-Cleveland-Chicago run.

"I'll ride in one some day—to New York," the man with the house and garden said. "The cost will be lower or some day."

See my garage? Better I die we each will have individual planes, with folding wings to fit into small garages. . . . It will be nothing to hop anywhere.

The man looked at the sky. "I hope it will rain—to cool things off." The writer understood. "You believe, then, that the cooling rain of wisdom will quench the heat that may consume all our crops for years to come?"

The man hesitated—then responded. "Yes. We'll have no gardens unless we work doubly hard this year. But it isn't enough to pray for rain. One must sprinkle."

THURSDAY, JUNE 7.

Memorable Days, June 7, 1329—

Robert Bruce, Robert I, hero-king of Scotland who murdered a rival to gain the throne and totally defeated the English and Irish to keep it, died at 55. His dying injunctions was that his heart should be taken out of his body and taken to the war against the Saracens.

His dearest friend, Sir James Douglas, carried it to Spain and in a battle between soldiers of Alfonso XI of Castile and invading Moors on Granada, he threw the casket containing the heart into the midst of the enemy with the exclamation, "Go first, as thou wert wont to go!" Douglas was killed in the ensuing fight. The heart was recovered by another knight and carried back to Melrose Abbey, Dumfriesshire.

June 7, 1329—Francis I, king of France, aged 26, and Henry VIII, king of England, 29, met upon the historic Camp du drap d'or (Field of the Cloth of Gold), between Guines and Ardes in France for the most expensive party ever given. A gorgeous palace was especially erected for the occasion and furnished with gold dishes, gilt furniture and the rarest ornaments. The most beautiful women of France gathered in magnificent dress. More than 220 sheep and other viands in similar proportions were prepared for the feasting which followed.

The monarchs by their gifts and retinues of nobles and servants sought to outdo each other in impressiveness. Nothing happened except that from $5,000,000 to $10,000,000 was spent upon a few days of pleasure by two young men who exacted it in taxes from peasants to whom $100 was a fortune.

June 7, 1692—An entire city sank into the sea! It was Port Royal, on an island off Jamaica in the Greater Antilles, islands which are constantly rising and sinking! Buildings constructed in Port Royal may be seen today through many fathoms of crystal green water.

June 7, 1789—Daniel Boone with five other hunters from North Carolina reached Red River in Kent-tah-teh ("Land of Tomorrow"), the first white explorers to enter the first state west of the Alleghenies to be settled.

This year Kentucky is observing the 200th anniversary of Boone's birth with homecoming celebration arranged for Kentucky natives throughout the world.

June 7, 1776—Richard Henry Lee, 44, of Westmoreland county, Virginia, introduced the resolution for independence that was adopted on July 2 (it was the second!) But he was not a member of the committee.

Congress the following Tuesday to prepare the preamble "that should clearly declare the causes which impelled the representatives of the people to adopt it!"

June 7, 1893—Edwin Thomas Booth, one of the few actors remembered 50 years after his time, died at 60. He was a stage star for 42 years. The last lines he spoke in the theatre were prophetic. Speaking in the character of Hamlet, he said: "The rest is silence."

Rules For Loan Seekers Given

McGrew Outlines Preparations Necessary For Those Seeking Aid

WILL SAVE TIME AND DISAPPOINTMENT

Don F. McGrew, sub-district manager for Lawrence county of the HOLC, outlines the following procedure for persons who are thinking of applying for a loan through the Home Owners Loan corporation, in order to save them delay and disappointment:

Was the property described in the application a home on June 13, 1933, and is it a home at the time of filing of the application for a loan?

Was the home encumbered by a mortgage or other obligations or liens secured by a real estate (including the interest of a vendor under a purchase-money mortgage or contract) executed, recorded or filed in the proper office prior to June 13, 1933, and was such a lien in involuntary default on such date?

To be eligible for refunding it must have been involuntary default on such date, or it must be conclusively shown to the satisfaction of the corporation that default after such date was due to unemployment or to economic conditions or misfortune beyond the control of the applicant, or in any case in which the home mortgage or other obligation or lien is held by an institution which is in liquidation.

Further conditions which are determining factors of eligibility are:

If the property described as a home was not encumbered by a mortgage and other obligations and liens secured by real estate on such date, but if it is encumbered by taxes and assessments or in need of such repairs and maintenance as to make it habitable, the property is eligible.

The home must be occupied by the owner; (a) or be held by him as his homestead though temporarily absent therefrom with intention to return.

The value of the property as determined by the corporation appraisal must not exceed $20,000. The dwelling cannot have facilities for more than four families and must be used by the owner as a home or held by him as his homestead.

Where the building contains four ordinary compartments and the basement is fitted up for shops or stores, the loan is negligible.

Where more than one property is owned by an applicant, and applicant makes application on property not occupied by him, the application is ineligible, unless he makes a sworn statement which will qualify such other property as his home under (a) of paragraph four.

If the mortgagee will show renewal or carry the indebtedness, even though a commission is charged, the application is ineligible per se. If the applicant pleads inability to pay a commission or brokerage, the plea must be verified by the adjustment and consent department by contacting the mortgagee of his representative and by making other investigations to determine the ability of the mortgagor to pay such a commission or brokerage.

If the applicant or the spouse of the applicant is gainfully employed, or if either has an income from a business or profession or from any other source sufficient to pay interest and taxes on the home; or if by hypothecating or sacrificing other investments owned by either spouse the home property can be saved from foreclosure, the application is ineligible since the act is designed to save homes and not to save outside investments of either spouse directly or indirectly.

The eligibility of combined business and residence property is questionable, and the test is:

If residence is merely incidental to the business, the loan is ineligible; if business is incidental to the residence, the loan is eligible, but if the business property is rented, rents must be assigned to the corporation as additional security, but may be retained by the borrower so long as installments are paid as due.

Any applicant who has secured one loan is not eligible for another loan even though the properties are located in different states.

The moral character and past record for honesty and integrity of the applicant must be considered as an element of eligibility. Where there is an apparent total lack of these qualities, such an applicant should be considered as ineligible.

An alleged home which is openly used for illegal or immoral purposes is ineligible.

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for 24 hours ending at 3:30 p. m. June 6, three arrests on charges as follows: violation of parking law 1, suspicion 1 and disorderly conduct 1.

A new police docket has been placed in service at the city police station. The old docket was filled a day or more ago. The new docket provides for the registration of names of prisoners, residence, occupation, nationality, property in their possession, time and date of arrest, and the names of the arresting officer. The time and date of arrest, name, residence, property in their possession and name of the arresting officer are filled on the docket. Their address, nationality and occupation are not recorded.

Apparently the material the city placed on Cascade boulevard is winning more friends, in addition to city officials. According to Carmi Glover, in charge of street work, agents are following the improvement of dirt roads and as soon as a street is improved offer the product for sale. In some instances it has been purchased and put on streets.

Councilman B. F. Butler said today that he expects that the work of resurfacing alleys and streets here will commence within the next week or ten days. The men who will be assigned work will be registered Friday afternoon at the tool house in North Croton avenue. Among the thoroughfares to be resurfaced is Cedar street which will prove pleasing to Seventh ward people. The traction company repaired their section of the street years ago but the city failed to do its share.

Within a short time it is expected the city policemen will hold a drawing to determine when they will secure their vacations. The men will cover more territory than at present, thus "doubling up" for the police on vacation. They will receive their wages. The fire department was authorized recently to employ several men to work during the firemen's vacation period. They also draw pay while on vacations.

Not many days ago City Engineer Harry Hoskins and Bill Davis and Dominick Quigley of the city sewer department recovered a valuable platinum watch. It was dropped in a receptacle in a home near Moody avenue and Carlisle street. After several days the loser decided to ask city officials what they could do about it. Hoskins took the employees to the section and opened a manhole at Moody avenue and Blaine street. The watch was found and returned.

On Court House Hill

County Treasurer William O. Pitts reports that T. S. McAnis of the second ward, was the first man to pay his county taxes by check following the sending out of county tax cards on Saturday. Blanche Thomas of Ellwood City, has the distinction of being the first person to come to the county treasurer's office to pay her taxes.

Treasurer Pitts took in $492 in 1934 taxes on Monday and $1,176 on Tuesday. Indications are that receipts will steadily grow. Five per cent discount is allowed on all taxes paid before August 1.

A delegation of North Beaver township farmers visited the county commissioners' office yesterday to enlist the co-operation of the commissioners in securing a "Pinchot" road from Edinburg to a point near Mt. Jackson. It is claimed that there is a great deal of travel over the road, and that in wet weather it becomes very bad. The commissioners informed the delegation that the project would have to be taken up with the state highway department which has jurisdiction over that class of roads.

Another site for the proposed court house was presented to the county commissioners today by Lee R. Gordon. The site has a frontage of 340 feet on Grant street, extending from Jefferson street on the west to Mercer street on the east. It would include the following properties: Terry Sweeney, J. P. H. Cunningham, M. L. Hanna and Mary C. Ward. Mr. Gordon pointed out that the site lends itself to beautiful landscaping, that it would be near the business district, comparatively quiet, plenty of parking space, and can be obtained for a very reasonable figure.

Motion for a new trial was argued at court today in the case of the Commonwealth against Frank Ambrosia, who was involved in an automobile accident. It is claimed that it is not clear that Ambrosia was the driver of the machine causing the accident.

Register and Recorder William R. Hanna has received from the research and statistics division of the Home Loan Bank board of Washington, statistics on foreclosures of mortgages in the twelve federal reserve bank districts. While the report covers in detail the various communities, the total shows a increase in the number of foreclosures during the first four months of this year as compared with 1932 and 1933. Foreclosures in the first four months of 1932 were 20,657, same period, 1932, 64,934, same 1933, 69,458, same 1934, 62,445. The average percentage of population reporting in the various states is 54.

County Commissioners were at Ellwood City yesterday hearing an application of the owners of the Standard Steel Car plant for a reduction in the assessment on their plant owing to the fact that practically all of the machinery has been moved to Butler. The commissioners inspected the plant for the purpose of determining just what it now contains. The Standard Steel Car plant was formerly one of Ellwood's thriving industries. In view of the removal of the machinery the company wants a revaluation. The commissioners have the matter under advisement.

Viewers J. Roy Mercer, Alex Main and Joseph Hannon, have reported favorably to court on a petition of North Beaver township road supervisors for the vacation of a road in North Beaver township. While the road has been opened for the last 47 years, it has been obsolete and hard to keep up. It is known as the Moravia-Petersburg road. The portion to be vacated begins at a point near Moravia, 643 feet from the intersection with state highway route 18, thence southerly 3,706 feet to a point on the Hall Town road, 420 feet west of the intersection of a road leading from Edward's run to the Falltown road. A second section to be vacated is 875 feet long, beginning at a point on the Halltown road 420 feet east of the above described road.

Opening Date Of Membership Campaign Is Set

Chamber Of Commerce To Inaugurate Drive For New Members On Tuesday

SEEK BUDGET TO CARRY ON PROJECTS

Launching of the Chamber of Commerce membership expansion campaign, made necessary by the wide range of projects outlined for that organization by the questionnaires recently compiled, has been called for next Tuesday evening, June 12, in the ballroom of the Castleton hotel. Dinner will be served at 6:30, with covers set for more than a hundred.

The meeting will be attended by the members of the executive committee, under the leadership of M. J. Donnelly, general chairman of the movement, and Thomas H. Hartman, associate general chairman, and by Earl S. Machin, general sales manager, and his organization of more than a hundred public spirited men and women of New Castle.

This dinner meeting will be the signal for the inauguration of a city-wide membership canvass, the object of which is to provide the necessary budget with which the project program of the Chamber of Commerce may be carried out. These projects number among them some of the more pressing demands for community cooperation, the Chamber of Commerce being the logical focal point for such action.

One of the accomplishments of the local Chamber of Commerce during the current year is the acquisition of a manufacturing plant employing in the neighborhood of 500 persons, with a payroll aggregating a third of a million dollars annually. This added payroll favorably affects every business and professional man and woman in New Castle, it is being pointed out, and negotiations are now under way for expanding this one payroll to the point where it will reach a million dollars per year, or better. Without an active Chamber of Commerce this manufacturer would never have located in New Castle, it has been said.

Says McKeesport Steel Workers Against Strike

(International News Service)

McKEESPORT, Pa., June 7.—Ascertaining that $5 out of every 100 workers in the steel industry in this area are bitterly opposed to a strike, Watson McKee, head of the NRA compliance board here and secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, today led a delegation of workers to Washington for a conference with NRA officials.

All the men in the party were elected by mill employees as their representatives in collective bargaining in so-called "company unions." The trip is being made on funds provided by the Chamber of Commerce.

"We intend to give the General (Hugh S. Johnson) some startling information and tell him exactly why we are against this unnecessary strike," McKee stated. "I have conducted a thorough investigation of the wishes of the employees here and learned that the great masses of men have no desire to strike. What the average worker is interested in is a steady job and a chance to get on his feet."

McKee denied the assertion of Gov. Gifford Pinchot that steel mills were arming. He said the tube city mills do not expect trouble and "are not arming."

Suffered From Gas, Cramps, Sourness And Shortness Of Breath. Had Dizzy Spells And Was Constipated. Feels Great Now, He Says.

"I was feeling pretty bad on account of stomach disorders and as so many people a round here were praising Vendol for relieving these troubles, I began taking it several weeks ago, and it surely has done me a lot of good," said Mr. George T. Brown of Ellwood City, who is employed by the State on roads work.

"After meals I'd begin to swell up with gas, and sometimes sharp pains would cut through my stomach. I'd belch up a hot sour liquid that would irritate my throat, the gas pressed around my heart so bad I'd have trouble breathing at times."

"My liver was sluggish which brought on dizziness, my breath was bad, I had a vile taste in my mouth, and I was constipated so bad I'd have to take medicine nearly every night."

"Vendol acted so quickly it really surprised me. Soon the gas was relieved, no more sour belching, and the cramps ceased to bother me. My bowels began to act regularly, and the dizziness passed away. Now I have a better appetite, get good sound, deep sleep all night long, whereas before, many a night I got hardly more than two hours sleep.

"Vendol is good and I'm sure no one will make a mistake by trying it if they have the same troubles as mine."

"Wonder Cat" Here Puts Cleveland Kitty In Shade

Cleveland may boast a "seven-toed kitten" which crashes its way into front pages because scientists begin to wonder about it, but New Castle can proudly boast a "seven-toed cat" which never has created much curiosity except to those who've seen it.

The house pet, the property of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hanrahan of the Hamilton apartments, has seven toes on each of its forepaws. A normal cat has five on each paw. "Baby"—and that's the affectionate name Mrs. Hanrahan has given her likable pet—is not a bit hard to get along with although since it was adopted and placed in its apartment home it's been almost afraid of everything outside.

Helps itself at home when "It never gets lonesome when we're away," Mrs. Hanrahan said, "even at night." One evening the Hanrahans were away and when they returned "Baby" had switched on the lights in the floor lamps.

But the forepaws are the oddest looking things—when the cat walks it looks as if it has mittens on its front paws. The hind paws are normal.

Last October Mrs. Hanrahan found the stray cat on North Mill street—it was nothing more than a kitten then. Since it has grown, although the size of its body is still not very large.

Now that scientists are wondering, perhaps more New Castle cat owners will wonder—and, by the way, that pet cat of yours, has it five or more toes?

CAMP RENTZ TO OPEN IN MONTH

Groom Y Camp Grounds For Arrival Of "Cadet Campers" July 10

With registrations piling up higher each day, Y. M. C. A. authorities today pushed to completion arrangements for opening the one-week "cadet camp" for younger lads which will be an innovation in the Camp Fred L. Rentz program this year.

The "cadet camp" will be inaugurated on July 10. Workmen are visiting the camp grounds each week to make repairs necessary for the grand inaugural, and only a month now remains before Camp Rentz, beautiful camp along the Slippery Rock creek, is once more a scene of vacation activity.

The baseball court and volley ball court are again ready for action and a new tennis court will be started this week. Improvements will also be made in the swimming hole.

Physical Director Henry T. MacNicholas, who will direct the camp this summer, announces that three-fourths of the "cadet camp" period has been reserved. Boys from eight to 12 will participate.

Indications, he said, are also bright that the regular camp period for boys over 12, opening July 17, will set a new peak in camp attendance records.

WHAT A TIRE! WHAT A TIRE!

See it here! Goodyear test drivers burned out brakes—wracked cars—pounded the roads night and day—and it kept its grip twice as long as other tires!

If YOU think the non-skid tread on your present tires wore out too soon—you're right!

Ordinary treads can't stand the strain of modern driving.

But come in today and see a tire that will!

The new "G-3" All-Weather! It has a wider tread—flatter tread—more rubber in the tread—more non-skid blocks in the center of the tread—and gives 43% longer non-skid mileage than the best previous Goodyear All-Weather.

No matter what car you drive—no matter how you drive—this tire will give you more miles of safety—AT NO EXTRA COST!

WARNING!

Watch the rest of the industry try to copy this amazing tire. Watch them try to duplicate Goodyear's claims. But, remember, you have to have "non-skid" before you can have "non-skid mileage." And to have "non-skid," you have to have GRIP where you see it here—GRIP in the center of the tread—the place where it counts, because it's the spot where the tire contacts the road. Look at the grip on this Goodyear Tire and ask yourself why buy any tire that lacks this safety? And keep in mind that you cannot successfully build this type of non-skid tire without the extra durability of Supertwist cords.

Seventeen-Year Locust Emerges From Ground

In localities where the seventeen-year locusts are prolific, it has been discovered that they are emerging from the ground.

According to scientists who have made a study of these insects, whose true name is the cicada, and which are near-brother to the common cicada or harvest fly, the insects spent almost their entire life under the ground.

The eggs are laid by the adults in the twigs and leaves of trees. If there are no cracks or splits in the wood, they bore one with their ovipositor. The young hatch out in a few weeks and drop to the ground, where they bore into the ground, and live by sucking the sap of the roots of trees until ready to emerge during the spring of the seventeenth year.

Life above the ground is only a few weeks in length, during which time the adult mates and the eggs are laid. They are usually found at depths of from six to eighteen inches, but sometimes bore as deep as 20 feet into the ground, it is said.

Only the male makes a noise, which is produced from a drum-like arrangement underneath the body.

There are about seventeen broods of these insects, so they are to be found in some section of the country every year. In the south, where the climate is warmer, the insects emerge from the ground at the end of 13 years.

Pile Sufferers

Can You Answer These Questions?

Do you know why external remedies so seldom give quick and permanent relief?

Why cutting does not remove the cause?

Do you know the cause of Piles is internal?

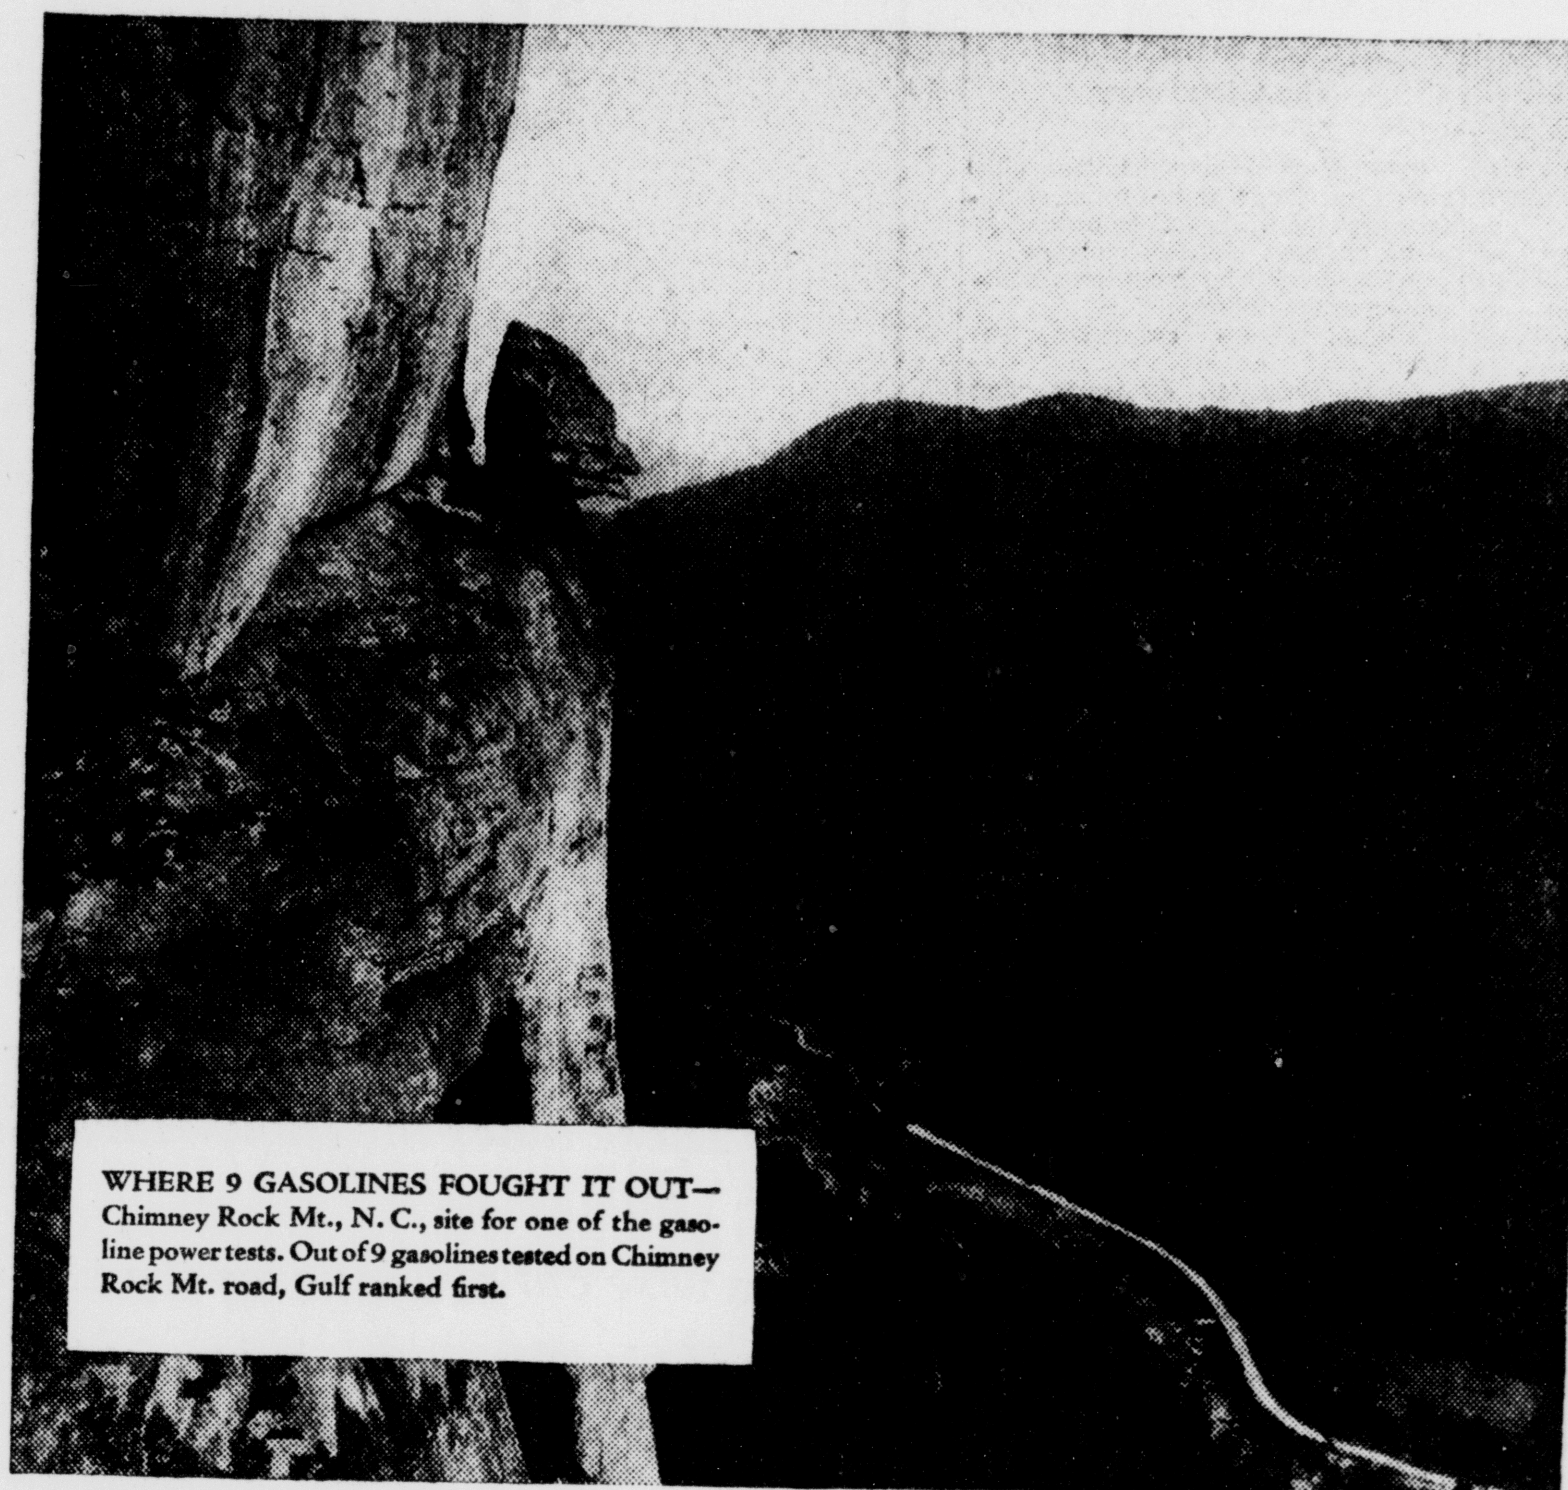

That there is congestion of blood in the lower bowel—the veins flabby, the parts lifeless?

Do you know that there is a harmless internal remedy for itching, bleeding or protruding piles discovered by Dr. Leonard and known as HEM-ROID that is guaranteed?

HEM-ROID banishes piles by removing the cause. It stimulates the circulation in the lower bowel, drives out the thick impure blood, and restores the affected parts.

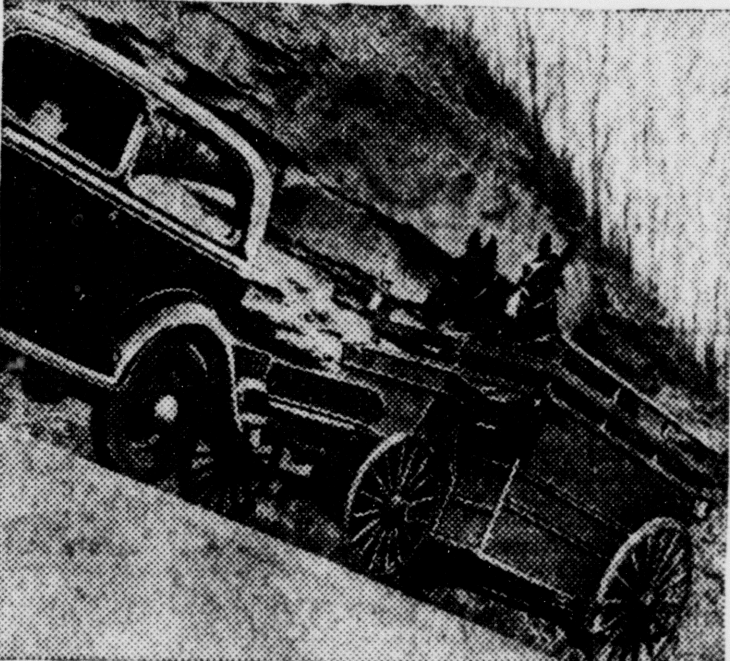

HEM-ROID is so successful in even the most stubborn cases that Eckerd's Cut Rate and New Castle Drug Co. and all good druggists advise every sufferer to get bottle of HEM-ROID Tablets today—take them as directed—then if not completely satisfied with results—your money back.

THE INSIDE STORY OF 33 GASOLINES

WHERE 9 GASOLINES FOUGHT IT OUT—Chimney Rock Mt., N. C., site for one of the gasoline power tests. Out of 9 gasolines tested on Chimney Rock Mt. road, Gulf ranked first.

(BELOW)—RACE HORSES WATCH A RACE—Muldraugh Hill, West Point, Ky. Two speedy thoroughbreds form part of a 3500-lb. load, pulled by a Ford, to test the power of 12 competing gasolines.

(BELOW)—READY FOR BATTLE—Samples of different gasolines, bought from local service stations ready for testing. The spikes were used to mark the point on the hill where each gasoline stalled the motor.

What gasoline has greatest power? Is one gasoline better than another? Here is presented straight-from-the-shoulder information on the ranking of 33 different gasolines, as established by power tests on 12 famous American hills.

ARE leading gasolines as alike as peas in a pod? The answer is "No." Emphatically "No!"

For tests made on 12 famous mountain grades prove that there is a difference—a big difference—in the power of even the best gasolines!

Here's how the tests were made... To a borrowed car was hitched a heavy load. Into a special tank on the car was placed one of the gasolines to be tested. The car was then driven up hill in high gear until the motor stalled. Then this procedure was repeated for each of the gasolines tested.

Gasolines sold in the vicinity were tested and results of the test were sworn to before a Notary Public.

Naturally, the most powerful gas hauled the load farthest up hill. Read the results—and decide which gas you want for your money!

HOW 33 GASOLINES RANKED (IN ALL TESTS TO DATE)

All gasolines tested, except a few "third grade" brands, sold for approximately the same price as that of Gulf. Each brand is denoted by a letter.

New Wilmington

LOCUST INFEST COMMUNITY With the imprint of a won on their wings, a horde of locusts have infested the community. Their gay chirps can be heard at all times and although they have caused little if any damage their presence seems highly undesirable.

WATER PIPE BREAKS AT SWIMMING POOL Workmen are busy repairing a pipe line break at the local swimming pool. The line which directs the flow of water to and from the filters burst several days ago, and will take some time to fix as it is extremely difficult to work underneath the cement bottom of the pool. Swimming is going on merrily however and the leak has caused little worry.

TO PLAY NEW CASTLE TEAM Coach Red McKean's New Wilmington A. A. will have some strong competition in a game on the upper diamond tonight when they will have the fast James' nine for their opponents. McKean will probably use Patterson, veteran hurler, for the encounter tonight, and will send "Dink" Campbell to the mound in tomorrow's twilight game with Volant. Bethel will furnish the opposition for Saturday's tilt.

FORMS BEING ERRECT AT RWD PROJECT Work is going on at a speedy rate at the bridge on Maple street extension, a local RWD project. Forms are being laid for the bridge and cement will probably be poured the first part of next week. Only the piers had been laid before the discontinuance of the CWA but another week should see the final completion of the bridge.

Thirteen men are at present employed on the bridge and Oak street projects, one having been injured last Saturday when William Kloss was struck on the foot with a steel beam.

The Governor Says

What Is Going On
In Harrisburg—
And Why

By GIFFORD PINCHOT
Governor of Pennsylvania

Drunken driving has got to stop. Careless sober drivers have made our highways dangerous enough. But the increasing menace of drunken drivers is too much.

There were far too many accidents caused by drunken driving during prohibition. Since repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment the situation has gone from bad to worse.

The facts are that from December 1, 1933, to April 30 of this year, 750 accidents have been reported in which drunken drivers were involved. People were killed in 20 of these accidents. During the same period a year ago there were 472 accidents of this type in which 15 persons were killed.

The record of drunken pedestrians is even worse. Twice as many as last year are figuring in accidents. This year during the last five months 473 intoxicated pedestrians were involved in accidents and 57 were killed. Last year during the corresponding months 233 were involved and 36 killed.

We have spent a great deal of time and money on trying to educate automobile drivers to practice safe driving. We have spent a great deal of time and money on trying to keep unsafe cars and trucks off the roads. We have spent huge sums of money in providing Pennsylvanians with the greatest and safest highway system in the world. We are not going to let the fools who insist on driving while drinking or drunk undo or nullify all we have done to make our highways safe.

There is only one way to do that and that is to snatch intoxicated drivers from behind the wheels of cars and put them where they can do no harm to themselves or anyone else.

The commonwealth is doing its part through strict enforcement of the law by the Highway Patrol and revocation of all drunken drivers' licenses. I have ordered the Highway Patrol to go as far as the law will let it in keeping drunks from behind the steering wheels. And I have instructed the Department of Revenue to go the whole road in revoking the licenses of drunken drivers.

Courts and local police, I hope, will do their share by cracking down hard on drunken driving. For one thing I hope the courts will impose stiffer sentences on those who risk their lives and the lives of others by driving while drunk.

I hope, too, that the legislature when it reconvenes, will heed the growing demand for a change in our laws to define intoxication and make drunken drivers subject to summary conviction.

New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, and many western states have laws which eliminate legal red tape and permit the justice who hears the case to throw drunken drivers into jail.

The National Safety Council has a slogan which ought to be driven home throughout Pennsylvania and the nation. It is:

"If you drink, don't drive; if you drive, don't drink."

LIVESTOCK WINTERED WELL

(International News Service)
CHEYENNE, Wyo.—Livestock on the Wyoming ranges wintered unusually well according to a report made by Arnold J. King, statistician for the state and for the United States Department of Agriculture. Losses were confined to old cows and ewes. The lamb and calf crops appear to be far above normal this year, he said.

'DUNKING' AUTO
(International News Service)
AKRON, O.—A new fad has been discovered here, that of "dunking" automobiles. A garage tow car was found submerged in an abandoned stone quarry near here. Police thought it had been "dunked" by a man who had a grievance against the garageman.

Correct this sentence: "The majority of the school board belongs to one denomination," said he, "and most of the teachers to another".

Prof. Einstein Says

Two Pigeons, Hatching.
Dangerous Insurance.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

BRITAIN. OWING the United States four thousand seven hundred and thirteen million dollars, has decided that the best plan for this spring's installment is to pay nothing at all. They would have gladly handed in a "token," something for Uncle Sam to play with, perhaps a few silver dollars, but President Roosevelt said:

"Pay the amount due this spring, or consider yourselves in default."

The British do not like to be in default. Refusing to pay what they owe this nation would justify other nations in refusing to pay them. On the other hand, the British feel that if they buy our dollars to pay us, they might increase the value of the dollar, and diminish that of the pound.

The upshot is that our British friends decide to pay nothing, explaining with words well chosen, that we ought to be grateful that Britain did not allow Germany to destroy the United States in the big war. And, anyhow, it is all our fault.

THE SUPER-LEARNED Dr. Einstein, of relativity fame, warns the United States that "America is not innocent of Europe's misery," and in demanding payment of her war debt becomes "an accomplice in the ruin of political morality and the cultivation of a revenge spirit encouraged by despair." So says an Associated Press dispatch from Paris.

IT SHOULD NOT annoy Professor Einstein to be told that the people of the United States, delighted to receive and provide him with congenial employment when Germany put him out, feel able to form their own opinions concerning the war debts, opinions who will take no part in paying the debt, and bought none of "Liberty Bonds" when the debts were contracted, do not interest the American taxpayer.

If the highly esteemed Dr. Einstein will read the foolish book that his greater predecessor, Newton, wrote, elucidating the apocalypse, he will learn that it is possible for a scientist to make mistakes when he wanders away from science. There is no demand for a fourth dimension in international honesty.

AT MORRISON, Ill., two pigeons take turns trying to hatch a duck egg left in an open lane. The pigeons find it hard to cover the entire egg, but do their best, and the egg may be hatched. Farmers watch and wonder what the pigeons will do with their child after they have hatched the duckling, and what they will think when it takes to the water.

At Washington there is mamma government that may be even more surprised than those pigeons as it watches the unfolding careers of social and economic "ducklings" that it is now hatching.

THE BRITISH government orders Lloyd's to cease writing insurance on the life of President Roosevelt. A special list of rates had been prepared for those wishing to insure the President's life, five per cent for insurance against assassination or accident, seven and a half per cent against death from ordinary causes, twelve and three-fifth per cent against the President's being incapacitated.

By special request, and wisely, this system of gambling on the President's life has been discontinued.

IN THIS COUNTRY, where you can hire an ordinary killer "to do his stuff" for fifty dollars, it would seem unwise to allow heavy insurance against death.

In England, before a coronation, and on some other occasions, merchants, legitimately, insure the life of their king, to avoid losing the value of their coronation goods, which would become worthless, if the nation should be suddenly put in mourning.

TO MEET the drought emergency, destruction of crops, death of cattle, the government will appropriate five hundred and twenty-five million dollars, 50,000 farmers have got jobs with the government, and a hundred thousand more will be on its payroll this week in the afflicted districts.

Once, five hundred and twenty-five million dollars would have been called a good deal of money. Now it is government "small change." The day when the country gasped at the thought of spending three hundred millions to build the Panama Canal seems primitive.

SIMLA, INDIA, reports that Sham Bunath, believed to be one hundred and twenty-five years old, for fifty years abbot of the temple at Bhaironji, has been buried alive by his own order. It is customary, according to pilgrims from the temple, for abbots to order themselves buried alive when they consider their life work ended. Christian countries are fortunately free from that idea.

If current here it would have caused the burial alive of many financial abbots after 1929.

NEAR ORATEN, in Hungary, twenty peasants were walking out of their village to work in the fields, singing and laughing. A section of an adjoining mountain fell on them, blotting out the high road and their lives.

We read that, and pass on. The disaster will be talked of in the little Hungarian village for a hundred years to come, with ever increasing details of horror.

BUSINESS PEOPLE that have been waiting and watching for Congress to go home as "young folks" waited for their elders to leave the parlor, will have to wait two weeks more. The President insists that important bills, including the Wagner bill, must be passed. Republicans, just beginning to recover their breath, and ask "where am I?" want time to do some fierce talking.

Report Martin Will Retire

Harrisburg Hears State Chairman Of G. O. P. To Relinquish Post

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, June 7.—Gen. Edward Martin will announce his voluntary retirement as state chairman of the Republican party within the next 24 hours, it was learned on reliable authority today.

Martin arrived at the capital this morning after prematurely leaving the national committee meeting in Chicago and immediately closeted himself with Attorney General William A. Schnader, candidate for governor; Auditor General Frank E. Baldwin and Senator Harry B. Scott, candidate for lieutenant governor.

It was understood that all three suggested to Martin that he step down from the chairmanship voluntarily and thus probably pave the way for the election of Dauphin county commissioner M. Harvey Taylor, candidate for secretary of internal affairs.

Martin himself refused to comment at all on the question of whether he will seek a fourth term or retire.

His advisers, however, promised to arrange a press conference sometime during the day at which it was expected he will announce his retirement.

Baldwin's advice to Martin, coming on the heels of the statement by Edwin Cox, newly elected Philadelphia city Republican chairman that he was opposed to Martin's reelection, was the basis for the prediction by Martin's close friends that he will be unable to withstand the pressure for his elimination. Baldwin always in the past has been one of Martin's staunchest allies.

A move to draft Sterling McNeese, of Harrisburg, Schnader's campaign manager, for the post of party leader, was quickly spiked by the Harrisburg lawyer.

He declined the honor in a formal statement issued here.

Some Milk Prices In State Changed

Cut In Price Of Milk Used In Manufacturing—Price Of Buttermilk Raised

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, June 7.—The state milk control board today slashed the minimum prices to be paid farmers for milk used in manufacturing and boosted by one cent the retail price of buttermilk in the Philadelphia area.

The slash, averaging about 16 cents per hundred weight, probably will be temporary, the board announced, during the heavy production season which is just starting.

New Price List
The new price will result particularly in a reduction to chocolate manufacturers and creameries.

Changes in minimum prices to farmers in the modification order, which goes into effect on June 11, in brief were:

Class 2 milk—three and one-half times the average price of 92-score butter wholesale in New York, plus 45 cents.

Class 2-A milk—three and one-half times the average price of 92-score butter wholesale in New York, plus 30 cents.

Class 2-B milk—three and one-half times the average price of 92-score butter wholesale in New York, plus 25 cents, and after June 30, plus 30 cents.

Minimum Prices
Under existing regulations minimum prices for all three of these grades of milk were three and one-half times the New York butter price, plus the same bonuses and plus an additional 20 per cent of that price. This last 20 per cent overrun was eliminated in the modification order.

Cream buttermilk will retail in Philadelphia after June 11 at 11 cents a quart instead of 10 cents, and wholesalers must charge at least nine cents instead of eight.

Buttermilk will retail at nine cents a quart instead of eight and wholesalers will charge seven cents instead of six.

Son Is Born To Belgian Queen

King Leopold Confers Title Of Prince Of Liege Upon Third Child Today

(International News Service) BRUSSELS, June 7.—Cannon firing at regular intervals until the Salvo totaled 101 deep booms gave to the citizens of Brussels and practically all Belgium today the glad news that Queen Astrid had given birth to a baby, her third.

The child was a boy cared for at the castle at Laeken by titled women assisted in the more practical details by the best nurses from the Brussels hospitals.

The child was named Albert, after his illustrious grandfather, King Albert I, who fell to his death last February while climbing a cliff near Namur. He weighed seven pounds, five ounces at birth. It has blue eyes and chestnut hair.

King Leopold immediately conferred upon his son the title of Prince Albert of Liege, a title which has been dormant since 1789.

Local Swimmers Meeting Tonight

Jack Hume Calls Life-Savers, Others To Y Meeting At 7:30

Answering the call of Jack Hume, director of swimming at Westminster college and of the life saving work of the Lawrence County American Red Cross, a group of nearly 60 Red Cross examiners and swimmers of the county will meet in the Y. M. C. A. tonight at 7:30 to hear outlined the program for preventing drownings in the county this year.

Hume assured that the meeting would be short in duration but urges the presence of all active swimmers. Supported by the local chapter of the Red Cross, Hume's program is expected to replace that formerly carried on by the famous Flying Squadron. Many of the abandoned squadrons' men will join the Red Cross organization.

"There have been two accidental drownings in our county already this year," Hume remarked, "and now we intend to prevent, if it is possible to, any more. By organization—efficient organization—a life saving and swimming instruction group may be of great service here."

Alec Samuels is assisting Hume.

Robots Replace Hens On Farms

State Propagation Farms No Longer Use Bantam Hens For Hatching Pheasants

"A complete revolution" has taken place in the State Game Farm industry, according to an article appearing in the June issue of the Pennsylvania Game News magazine, published by the game commissioners.

"So much progress in game farming has been made in the past four or five years that the methods employed even a short time ago have become hopelessly antiquated. The once more or less dependable barnyard hen once used for hatching and rearing has given away to mechanical robots which perform the work of hundreds of her species even more efficiently," the article states.

The Jordan State Game Farm, near Harlansburg, Lawrence county, is mentioned. The Jordan farm is equipped with up-to-date equipment and is one of the most important of the state propagation centers.

Housing Bill To Be Revised

Opposition To Many Of Proposals Expressed In Committee

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Drastic revision of the administration's housing bill is favored by the house banking committee which now has it under consideration.

While the entire committee is reported to be sympathetic to its purpose, violent opposition to many of its proposals developed today.

Fear of injury to local building and loan associations assertions that the measure is a "financing" instead of a "housing bill," and the fact that there is virtually no limit to the government's obligations under the measure were cited by committee members.

Objection Raised
Rep. Busby (D) of Mississippi said committee members objected to the centralization of authority in the measure.

"It is my opinion that whatever legislation is enacted for relief ought to be administered by organizations in the various sections of the country instead of being centralized in Washington, D. C.," he said.

"Committee members favor the purpose of the bill as declared in its opening paragraph but the bill doesn't seem to bring about the declared purpose.

May Be Destroyed
"There is the additional fear that building and loan associations which have financed $8,000,000,000 of building, might be destroyed, and this would have a more detrimental effect than the good that could come from the bill."

Rep. Wolcott (R) of Michigan, said:

"Committee members are sympathetic to the purpose. The objections which various members have raised have been that instead of being a housing bill for home owners the bill is a housing bill for industrial financing."

Tigers Win On One-Hit, Walks Hurt Weiland

Cleveland Hurler Allows Detroit One Hit, But Loses Game 2 To 1

PIRATES WIN TWO AT CINCINNATI

BY GENE LAWRENCE
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 7.—One well placed hit, whether it be with fist, golf club or baseball bat, sometimes goes a long way toward determining a champion and today the Detroit Tigers are perched at the top of the American League standings because of a timely blow.

That one hit gave them the ball game over the Cleveland Indians 2 to 1 and lifted them to the top rung past the New York Yankees who split a doubleheader with the Boston Red Sox.

Weiland in Form
Hitting has been one of the best things the Tigers have been doing recently as for example take the case of Outfielder "Goose" Goslin, who hit safely in 30 consecutive games. He was stopped by Bob Weiland yesterday but on one of his free walks, he scored when Gehrig singled.

After pounding "Lefty" Grove from the hill in four innings the Yankees went on to win the first game from Boston 15 to 3, gathering 25 hits. They missed equalling their own record of scoring in every inning in a regulation nine inning game which they set back in 1923 against the Philadelphia Athletics, when Ben Chapman was retired in the ninth with men on base.

Hoag Gets Six
Myrl Hoag, Yankees outfielder, made six hit in six trips to the plate in the first game. The record is seven straight held by Wilbert Robinson, former dodgers manager, when he played with the old Baltimore Orioles.

However, in the final which the Yankees lost, 7 to 4, Hoag continued his streak to seven only to fail in his eighth try.

Rogers Hornsby's St. Louis Browns tightened their hold on fourth place nosing out the Chicago White Sox 3 to 2. "Bump" Hadley outpitched Ted Lyons to win this one, allowing eight hits, one more than his rival.

Hubbell Wins
Rain cancelled the Philadelphia Athletics game with the Senators at Washington after three innings had been played.

Carl Hubbell hung up his eighth victory of the season as he pitched the New York Giants to an easy 6-2 victory over the Boston Braves and into the leadership of the National League.

The Pittsburgh Pirates swept through a double victory over the lowly Cincinnati Reds, winning the first 3 to 1 and the nightcap 5 to 1.

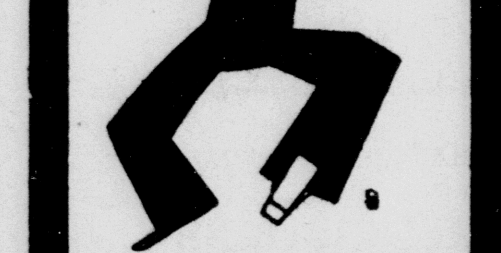

Use Four Pitchers
The Brooklyn Dodgers used four pitchers, Beck, Carroll, Lucas and Munns, but they couldn't stop the Philadelphia Phillies and as a result lost, 12 to 4.

The St. Louis Cards tumbled to second place in the league standings as a result of a 12 to 6 defeat handed them by the Chicago Cubs. Dead-locked at the end of the ninth, the two teams continued on to the twelfth when a weird batting outburst netted the Cubs six runs.

TIGERS CLUB
The regular monthly meeting of the Tigers Club will be held tonight at 8:30 o'clock in the Tigers Club, Fourth Mill street.

HOLDING HER JOB

Hillville topped the rejuvenated West Side Tigers 7 to 6 in a Lawrence County league game at the Hillville field last night. Schaas and Carey were on the mound for the Tigers and held Hillville to five hits, while the Tigers had but four hits off of Orenic.

BACK IN LINE

By Jack Sords

St. Louis Browns' catcher who is supplying most of the punch in his team's attack.

SPYING ON SPORTS
The sport experts who picked Jimmy McLarin to larp the life out of Barney Ross are now busily explaining just why the opposite happened.

A number of them, it is noted, believe that the reason McLarin failed to shine against the young Chicagoans was due to a natural lack of incentive, the loss of the driving will to win which characterized the work of the more youthful Barney.

Not that McLarin did not want to win. He wanted to, desperately. Fiercely proud, Jimmy knew he had the punch to put Barney away if he could land it. And tried to put it over—but he couldn't.

And, now, say the experts, perhaps the reason McLarin could not break through the Ross defense was the same reason that other great fighters have failed to continue winning in the latter years of a long reign. Time had dulled their spirit.

Which may indicate that these experts are much better guessers at explaining why than they are at predicting what.

Great fighters seem to lose their zest, their driving spirit when they have been in the squared circle as long as has Jimmy McLarin. Punch and speed may still be there, but the reason McLarin failed to win was the enormous advantage of ring-wise brains, but the old snap is gone. Maybe they are bored.

For them victory has lost some thing of its magnificent thrill. To them the adoring thousands about the ringside are just replicas of other crowds, many other such crowds, they have seen before.

It's probably true that no champion ever has the same blissful thrill reading about the victory bringing him the title that he had when, as an unknown preliminary boy, he read about his first knockout win over an equally unknown youth in some obscure, little fight club.

It's true of newspapermen. To a veteran a wide syndicated story or a magazine article under his name hasn't the kick that first page one by-line story carried 'way back in the dim days of cubhood.

It's true of football players. It's true of movie stars. It's true of those in the other occupations, professions and callings which bring the performers or workers into the public eye.

So why shouldn't it be true of boxing?

It appeared to be true in the careers of Mickey Walker, Jack Sharkey, Bud Taylor, Tony Canzoneri and many other fighters who, when they still appeared to have everything they needed to continue their grand strings of victories, began to lose.

So maybe that's why Jimmy McLarin lost—he just didn't have that youthful spirit which Barney Ross, years younger, has, along with many other great fighting qualities, in abundance.

Church Golfing Teams To Meet
New Castle church golfing teams will go to Castle Hills course tonight for the third round of play in the newly created Church League. The First Presbyterians are topping the league along with the First Methodist with 8½ points apiece.

First Christian vs Highland U. P. First U. P. vs Epworth M. E. Trinity vs St. Marys-St. Josephs. First Presbyterians vs First Methodist.

Titans Compile Good Record In Year's Athletics

(Special To The News)
NEW WILLIAMINGTON, Pa., June 7.—Seventy per cent of all varsity contests were won by Westminster college teams during the past year, a survey shows. Of the 44 varsity games, 31 were won by Titan teams.

Basketball, with 22 victories in 26 starts, was the best of the Titan outfits, maintaining its eight-year record of averaging 15 or more victories to three defeats per season. Coach John Lawther's courtmen have won 126 games and lost 25 in eight seasons.

The varsity tennis team, coached by Professor F. S. Sowersby, completed its spring campaign with five victories and two defeats. The varsity football team won two out of eight contests. The varsity football team won two out of eight contests.

The varsity cross country team, coached by Professor R. X. Graham, won two meets and lost one. Thus the Titan percentage for the four varsity sports was 704 for the year.

In addition to the varsity program, the intra-mural program, in its ninth year, attracted 287 of the 299 men, or 95 per cent. One hundred and eighty-five women students out of 327, or 57 per cent, took part in intra-mural games. Westminster has the oldest full program of intra-mural sports for all in the entire district.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

A boxing clinic will be held at the firehouse in Monaca, O., Saturday night, the sponsor being none other than Eddie Weyant, former featherweight of this city, who has been tutoring boxers for some time. It was he who brought out Mickey Solomon of this city, who staged some good fight with Buck McTiernan and other welterweights and middleweights.

Anell Hoffman, manager of Max Baer proposes Friday to request the New York state boxing commission to consent to a postponement of the Carnera-Baer fight so Max can get into the best condition possible. It is reported from Asbury Park, N. J., that the Californian cannot be in the condition he should be by June 14.

David Livingston will row for Yale against Harvard, through the intervention of President Roosevelt, a Harvard graduate. His son, Franklin, Jr., wired his father that Livingston, No. 4 on the Yale junior varsity, could not go to New London to race against Harvard because he was in the R. O. T. C. camp. The president telephoned the war department. Livingston will be in the shell when the race comes off.

Flint Rhem, right handed pitcher, has been released to the Syracuse club of the International league by the Cardinals. Mon Woo, Chinese flyweight, will appear in his first amateur bout at Charleroi, June 12. Long Que Sue, a New York Chinaman, fought in a professional bout here. Maxie Strub of Erie, held victim recently, fought here twice, once against Paris Caney and the second time against Jimmy Hackley.

Relief Board Moves Families To Mining Town

Planned Economy Is Practiced For First Time By State Emergency Relief Board

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, June 7.—The State Emergency Relief board today undertook its first experiment in planned economy by transporting the initial contingent of five of 125 unemployed coal miners' families from Centre and Clearfield counties to Tioga county where employment has been found for them.

The miners were formerly employed in the Morris Run coal mines in those two counties but have been unemployed for some time. They will now be given work in the company's mines near Blossburg.

The first five families were moved to Tioga county this week from West Decatur in national guard trucks supplied by Adjutant General David J. Davis and a like number or more will be transferred each week.

Officials of the Morris Run company communicated with Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins several months ago with a request for workers. The request was transmitted to the federal re-employment service and then relayed to the state department of labor which contacted the State Emergency Relief board.

PricesTRADING VOLUME
AT LOW LEVEL(International News Service)
NEW YORK, June 7.—Failure to break the deadlock in the threatened steel strike at yesterday's important conference here unsettled the stock market today.

Nervous selling which developed in the early dealings brought losses running to a point and more in leading issues. The weakest were the steel, rails and motors.

A contributing factor was a break of more than 2 cents in wheat and weakness in other grains following further soaking rains over the drought belt. Cotton was steady while other commodities did little. Bonds were mixed and the dollar firmer after yesterday's decline.

After the early selling had been absorbed, stocks turned steadier with selective strength in special issues, mining shares rose again on top of yesterday's advance, with U. S. Smelting jumping 2 points.

Tobacco was aided by the expectation the house would vote the 40 percent tax cut in the next few days. Oils quieted down after yesterday's flurry but displayed a firm undertone.

Liquor shares were dull. Farm stocks were firmer despite the new break in grains. American Telephone was down a point in the utilities at one time but firmer later.

Trading volume continued at the low level of recent sessions and the market showed no important pressure.

Wounds Wife And Commits Suicide

Philadelphia Man Wounds Young Bride And Turns Gun Upon Himself In Fit Of Rage

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, June 7.—A 17-year-old bride of a month, Mrs. Margaret Parker, today was fighting valiantly for life in Temple hospital with a bullet in her spine. Her husband, Earle G. Parker, who fired the shot because she refused to live with him, lay dead at the morgue, a suicide.

Parker, employed as a janitor in a motion picture theatre, eloped to Media with his girl-bride early in May after a courtship of two years. Her parents strongly disapproved of the marriage, because he had been married before. Immediately after the couple returned from the elopement, her parents separated them, police said.

Last night he went to the home of his wife's parents and insisted upon seeing her. When she refused to move into an apartment with him, Parker shot her and turned the pistol on himself, police said.

WASH OUT 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

Win Back Pep . . . Vigor . . . Vitality
Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 MILES of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy.

If you have trouble with too frequent bladder passages with scanty amount causing burning and discomfort, the 15 MILES of kidney tubes need washing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and vitality, getting up nights, lumbago, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and dizziness.

If kidney don't empty 3 times every day and get rid of 4 pounds of waste matter, your body will take up these poisons causing serious trouble. It may knock you out and lay you up for many months. Don't wait. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS. . . . a doctor's prescription . . . which has been used successfully by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. They give quick relief and will help to wash out the 15 MILES of kidney tubes.

But don't take chances with strong drugs or so-called "kidney cures" that claim to fix you up in 15 minutes for they may seriously injure and irritate delicate tissues. Insist on DOAN'S PILLS, the old reliable remedy that contain no "dose" or "dose"-forming drugs. Be sure you get DOAN'S PILLS at your druggist. © 1934, Foster-Milburn Co.

MisSimplicity Molds Your Figure To Young Lines

The diagonal pull of the crossed back straps flattens the diaphragm and abdomen, raises the bust and smooths away all waistline flesh—thus avoiding that tell-tale look of maturity. The model sketched is of peach rayon figured batiste and elastic with an uplift bust of tricot mesh. $3.50

King Salmon Is Winner Of Race

(International News Service)
EPSOM DOWNS, England, June 7.—King Salmon, owned by Sir Richard Brooks, won the coronation cup race over the mile and a half route here today.

Mate, the American-bred colt owned by A. C. Bostwick finished second and Chatelaine was third. Only three horses ran.

Mate had been the favorite, heavily backed at odds of 13 to 8. He paid 20 to 21 for place. King Salmon paid 7 to 4 and Chatelaine 11 to 2.

King George was among the large crowd that witnessed the race.
